

BOSTON <> PORTLAND

BUS TRANSPORTATION GUIDE

If you are flying into Boston Logan (BOS), there is a Concord Coach Lines bus to Portland. It is a 2-hour ride. This guide covers the trip to and from Portland.

PART 1 • GETTING TO PORTLAND

From Boston Logan Airport to your hotel

Do this before you fly

1

Buy your bus ticket online

Visit the website here to see the schedule and book your trip. Here is a PDF view of the schedule.

Pick ROUND-TRIP: Boston Logan International Airport ⇌ Portland, ME.

Pick a time but know that they will honor your ticket at any time (see below).

2

Save the QR codes to your phone

Save the emails with the codes so they are handy for your arrival and departure. Consider saving screenshots to your phone so it works even with no signal.

KEY POINT: Your ticket is not tied to a time or seat. It's good for 180 days. Just board any Concord Coach Portland bus and show the QR code.

When you land at Logan

3

Grab your bags

Go to baggage claim and get your luggage (if you checked).

4

Go DOWNSTAIRS and OUTSIDE

Buses pick up on the lower level, outside baggage claim. Look for the orange "Scheduled Bus" sign. Find your terminal's door:

Terminal A > Door A105

Terminal B > Door B105

Terminal B2 > Door B115

Terminal C > Door C110

Terminal E > Door E107

5

Board the bus that says PORTLAND

Several Concord buses will pick up for other destinations while you wait. Yours reads only PORTLAND in the front window about the driver.

The driver calls out the destination. Listen for "Portland" and confirm before loading bags and showing your QR code.

BE PATIENT: Logan is busy, so your bus may not leave at the exact ticket time. Buses run about every hour. Miss one? Your QR code works for the next.

On the bus

Show the driver your QR code. Big bags go underneath, keep a small bag with you. Free WiFi and outlets on board.

BRING A DRINK: There's no water service on the ride into Portland. Grab one before boarding. (Coming home, they often hand you cold water in Portland.)

Ride share to the hotel

You will arrive at the Portland Transportation Center (100 Thompson's Point Road). Take a taxi or Uber/Lyft to the hotel from there. The Westin Portland Harborview 157 High Street, Portland, ME 04101

PART 2 • GETTING BACK TO LOGAN

From your hotel to Boston Logan for your flight

Same bus, reverse direction. Make sure your return QR code is handy!

Step 1 • Rideshare to the bus terminal

Open Uber or Lyft. Set your trip like this:

FROM (PICK-UP)

The Westin Portland Harborview

157 High Street, Portland, ME 04101

TO (DROP-OFF)

Portland Transportation Center

100 Thompson's Point Road, Portland, ME 04102

About a 10-minute ride (2.5 miles). Leave buffer for traffic and driver wait.

Step 2 • Board the bus to Logan

Inside, you will want to grab a tag that is color marked for the terminal you are flying out of. Stand in the line marked Boston / Logan Airport. Show the driver your QR code.

LEAVE EARLY: The ride is ~2 hours and stops at every terminal. Add security and check-in. Rule of thumb: leave Portland at least 4 hours before your flight.

Step 3 • Get off at your terminal

The bus stops at each Logan terminal (A, B, C, E). The driver calls each one, get off at your airline's terminal, then head upstairs to check-in and security.

Pro Tips • A few things we have learned during our travels

We recommend using carry on luggage only.

Try to get a seat closer to the front of the plane to deboard more quickly

The bus sequentially moves through Terminals A-E and the pickup time on the chart is for Terminal A.

The good news if you're slightly late for the initial pickup time at Terminal A is that you may still be able to board the bus at a later terminal, since you can walk across the terminals at Logan. Travelers have had success making the walk with a roller bag and a backpack and boarding the bus at the last terminal, Terminal E, 30 minutes or more after the bus's pickup time at Terminal A.
